Furniture Store Adding Coin Division

A coin department is the newest addition to Superior Furniture Company, 4341 El Cajon Boulevard at Fairmount, San Diego, California, according to Leon Schulman, president and owner.

Catering to both the novice and the advanced student of numismatics, the coin shop specializes in coins of the 20th century, United States and foreign. Featured, too, are the older type coins and coin supplies.

To better assist the beginner with his collection are thousands of cents and nickels; for the specialist there are such interesting items as tokens, coins from Canada and old pieces of gold.

On display is a rare nickel with a mintage figure of only 2,041. Another conversation piece is a silver dollar, one of but 2,000 made.

The coin shop is operated by Bill Tuttle, member of the American Numismatic Association, Canadian Numismatic Association and affiliated with many San Diego coin clubs.

"We buy coins, too," said Bill. "Whether you're peddling or purchasing, come on in. I'll be happy to see you!"

Government Drops Reiver Gold Charges

The federal government has dropped a charge against Julius Reiver, Westwood Manor, Delaware, who refused to surrender a $10 gold certificate.

Assistant United States Attorney Ralph F. Keil had no comment on why prosecution of Reiver was withdrawn.

The criminal charge was lodged August 4 in U. S. District Court on the ground that refusal to yield the bill violated federal currency laws which have been effective since this nation went off the gold standard in 1934.

Reiver, a coin collector, declined to return the certificate after a visit by a Secret Service agent last January.

Reiver previously informed the Federal Bureau of Investigation that he had reason to believe that the note, a gift from his late grandfather, was one of the bills in the Lindbergh kidnaping case more than 25 years ago.

Roll Dealers Hold Meeting In New York For Evaluation

Sol Kaplan, of Cincinnati, internationally known numismatist and dealer in rare coins, chats here during a showing of the famous Mikhailovitch collection, one of Kaplan's most famous negotiations. The duPont family bought it to give to the Smithsonian Institution. The collection will be shown at the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association convention October 28-30 before it is permanently placed at the Smithsonian.

Eight-State Assemblage Looks Ahead

Roll business, the market and the future potential were studied by 25 coin dealers from eight states in a four-hour session October 4 at the Hotel Roosevelt, New York City.

Charles T. Ross, of Brooklyn, who summoned the dealers from coast to coast to New York for the informal session, termed some of them "the biggest roll dealers in the country."

Ross, who acted as the post-meeting spokesman for the group, presided at the evaluation meeting.

"We are opposed to being called 'garbage collectors,'" Ross said with force. "We don't go for that at all!"

Even though the 1960 items may be bulk now, the Brooklyn dealer said, he pointed to a series of rolls of earlier dates with great numismatic value.

Ross said the meeting served as a training seminar for some of the new roll dealers.

"We know the seasons, the trends," the veteran numismatist said. "We know rolls will sell next month or next year."

He advised new dealers not to become panicky.

"We know the market is soft now—but it always has bounced back."

Coin World was discussed at the session, Ross said.

"Your publication takes the news too quickly to investors and collectors!"

"But," he said philosophically, "we can't stop progress!"

"And if our business can't support a weekly—then we'd better get out of business," the authority said.

He did, however, call a weekly publication a "market place for panic."

"Smaller and newer dealers panic and shoot in ads at lower prices," Ross said.

A.N.A. Members To Get Special Rate On Reprint

October 15 is the deadline for members of the American Numismatic Association to obtain the first and second books containing outstanding articles from The Numismatist over the past 72 years at the price of $2.75.

The first two volumes in a series of four are on United States coinage and specific United States coins.

Orders for either the first or second book or both postmarked on or before October 15 with remittance of $2.75 each are to be sent to Lewis M. Reagan, general secretary, P. O. Box 577, Wichita, Kansas.

The remittances are to be made payable to the American Numismatic Association; orders should state which United States book or books wanted, with the A.N.A. number and mailing address for the books to be included.

There is to be one book of each title only at the special price to A.N.A. members.

After October 24 they go on public sale at a cost of $3.75 each with the Whitman Publishing Company distributing the books through its regular channels, Kenneth E. Bressett, numismatic editor of the firm, announces.

"Selections from The Numismatist—United States Coins" is the name of the first volume in the series of four books to be presented by the reprint publication

L. K. Jordan Head Of Club

The Redwood Empire Coin Club, Santa Rosa, Calif., was established in March, 1949. It has 22 regular members and three honorary members. It meets every month of the year.

Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m. at El Rancho, 2200 Santa Rosa avenue. Officers are elected at the December meeting.

L. K. Jordan, Santa Rosa, is president; Ted Reidelbach, Santa Rosa, is vice president; and Guy L. Chapman, Santa Rosa, is secretary of the club.

committee of the American Numismatic Association.

A few examples of article titles are: "Amateurs in Numismatics," "Numismatic Firsts in the History of the U. S.," "Collecting U. S. Large Copper Cents," "The Dollar of 1804," "Types of U. S. Dimes and Their Designers," the United States Eagle and Half Eagle," "A Brief Review of Commemorative Coins," "The Making of Dies, Coins and Medals," "United States Pattern Coins." The volume totals about 300 pages with illustrations from the original publication.

The second book continues the United States subjects, with reprints of articles of paper money, medals, tokens, early American coins, tokens and paper money, private gold coins and miscellaneous subjects.

The third and fourth volumes—one on ancient and medieval coinage and the other on modern foreign subjects—will follow at approximately one-month intervals, according to Whitman officials.

Charles M. Johnson served as chairman of the A.N.A. special reprint committee with P. K. Anderson, Elston G. Bradfield and Richard S. Yeoman as members of the committee.

The project was started in 1959 at the Portland convention with Johnson contributing much preliminary work on his own before that time.

"Whitman's record in publishing numismatic books leaves no question about the quality of these books and contributes to their low cost," A.N.A. officials said.

BULLETIN

"Prices skyrocketed like in London" wired Hans M. F. Schulman, Coin World columnist, from the foreign gold session of the Stacks' Holmes collection auction in New York October 6.

"American collectors have the same confidence in the coin market as the Europeans," Schulman declared.

outstanding articles from The Numismatist gleaned from a period of 72 years since the first publication of the journal in 1888, said:

"A devoted committee of numismatic scholars gave freely of their time to cull from past volumes of The Numismatist the best, the authoritative, the significant and most enjoyable articles of the outstanding numismatic researchers of the past three quarters of a century.

"The Whitman Publishing Company is proud to have been granted exclusive printing and distributing rights to these books by the committee and has tried in every way to produce a book in keeping with the high standards of the American Numismatic Association."

Each volume will contain over 300 pages and will be reproduced by the photo-offset printing method on high grade paper. The books will be uniform in size and appearance with a handsome hard cover and sewed binding, suitable for the tremendous amount of use that they will receive.

"On and after October 24 dealers may purchase at wholesale through jobbers," said Bressett, speaking for the Whitman Publishing Company.

Eglit Book To Appear Serially

How will the Kennedy-Nixon presidential campaign go down in numismatic history?

It won't be the hard cider campaign... neither man has been called "Old Rough and Ready." Neither has yelled "Ma! Ma! Where's my Pa?" These were campaign slogans of yesteryear—don't miss their fascinating background and a thousand brilliant political gems that sparkle in a preview of Nathan N. Eglit's book, "The Story of Political Tokens, Badges and Buttons."

It starts in this issue of Coin World as an exclusive election feature.

Gettysburg Is Coin Proposal

Representative Quigley, Democrat of Pennsylvania, announces that he will introduce in Congress next year a bill to authorize minting of half dollars commemorating the centennial on November 19, 1963, of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

He said the idea came out of a recent meeting of the Pennsylvania State Civil War Centennial Commission.

Suggesting that the coins might be sold for a dollar or two, the Gettysburg Congressman said proceeds could be used to help pay for centennial observances.

Quigley said commemorative half dollars issued on the seventh anniversary of the Gettysburg address now are valued at $21.

First Cent, Half Cent

The first American cent and half cent were struck in 1793.

Robber And Loot Described By Western Robbery Victim

An estimated $7,246 in coins, taken by gun point from the office of A. A. Cutler, in the First National Bank building, San Diego, California, has been listed by the victim, a member of the San Diego Numismatic Society.

Cutler also could describe the robber with enough detail to provide a composite drawing.

Anyone who can supply information about the suspect or any of the gold coins taken in the robbery is requested to get in touch with the robbery detail of the San Diego police department.

The coins, many of them gold, taken from Cutler included the following:

Fifty peso Mexican, 10, five and 20 ducat German Adenauer commemorative medal, Austrian four and 100 krone Franz Joseph 1915, one roll of 12 pieces 1899 U. S. $20.

About 46 1904 $20, 18 $10, 50 $5, approximately 24 to 30 Indian head, dated 1909-D, unknown amount of $2.50 pieces, 11 $3, one one $1, one Lincoln 100 year commemorative gold medal.

Families Strike Coins

Three branches of Bentheim, a distinguished Hanoverian house, each struck coin from 1606 to 1768 in copper and silver.

Compassion Is Factor In Plan For Children

Do you know a handicapped child nine years old or more?

Stephen Matylewicz, of the F. and M. Coin Shop, 1614 Pittston Avenue, Scranton, 5, Pa., would like names and addresses of handicapped children, along with a description of their illnesses—whether it be cerebral palsy, polio or other illnesses that hamper a child in play.

It is Matylewicz's hope to get some of these children started in the wonderful hobby of coin collecting—an ideal therapy to fill up some of those empty hours, he explained.

"You can play an important role in my project by supplying the names and also if you have any used coin folders or books you could spare," the coin dealer said to Coin World readers.

"If you are wondering why I took this upon myself, here is my answer," said the Scranton man.

"I have a daughter four years old who is a cerebral palsy victim. I know how hard it is to keep these children amused. . ."

Hourly Prizes At Greenville October 13-15

Prizes will be awarded every hour during the annual convention of the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association which will be held in Greenville, S. C., October 13, 14 and 15 at Jack Tar Point.

Exhibits will be open from 9 a. m. until 10 p. m. all three days; the public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

Ninety special prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded. These will be in the form of mounted coin collections.

One such collection is composed of large cents ranging in date from 1810-1852. The large cents are favorites among numismatists due partially to the history of the coins. This collection is valued conservatively at $50.

Visitors to the exhibits will also have an opportunity for free appraisals of any coins that they feel might be value.

The Blue Numismatic Association is accepting charter memberships for those who are interested. Further information regarding memberships or the convention may be obtained from G. C. Sizemore, P. O. Box 1637, Greenville.

Bank Meeting Site

Grandview Bank is the meeting place of the Midwest Numismatic Assn. of Kansas City, Kansas. There will be meetings, starting at 8 p. m., October 27, November 24 and December 22.

Politico Book To Be Previewed

Nathan Eglit's Work Will Appear Serially

Coin World readers have the pre-election privilege of previewing excerpts of a new book, "Story of Political and Presidential Tokens, Badges and Buttons," by Nathan N. Eglit, Chicago attorney whose numismatic speciality is concentrated in the political-presidential token area.

A member of the American Numismatic Association since 1945, Author Eglit has Latin-American coins as his secondary interest.

Because of the extremely high reader-interest value at the moment — when presidential candidates sharpen and accelerate their campaigns for the final weeks—Author Eglit is generously sharing his book in manuscript form with Coin World readers.

The material to be presented in these pages for the next few weeks represent years of work by Author Eglit. It will cover a great part of the political item area including the most colorful periods in presidential history.

Needless to say, Eglit's outstanding collection of political items is in great demand. He halted this exhibit long enough to allow a series of photographs to illustrate this special pre-election Coin World feature.

Attorney Eglit is a member of the American Numismatic Association, the American Numismatic Society, the Chicago Coin Club, the Central States Numismatic Society, the American Political Items Collectors, the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar Association, the Elks, the City Club of Chicago and the Art Institute of Chicago — just for a starter in in numismatic writing background!

By Nathan N. Eglit

Coinage is most widely disseminated form of man's inventive and creative genius since the Greeks developed it as a commercial medium of exchange. The coin is one of the few products of man's ingenuity which so perfectly combines utility and art.

Portraiture under the Greeks as first developed was that of mythical or idealistic representations. The first depiction of an actual person on coinage was that of Alexander the Great and the first depiction of a living person was that on the coins of Ptolemy I of Egypt.

It became accepted practice thereafter in the Greek and Roman world to depict royalty on state coinage as a means of impressing on the people the symbol of power and leadership because of its effectiveness as the most widely disseminated means of communication then extant.

In those times, when printing was unknown, there were no newspapers or books or other common media of transmitting ideas. Papyrus writings were long and laborious in both the original production and in the making of copies and they were available only to a few.

Coins, however, were more commonly available, and, therefore, the first common media used in conveying political as well as cultural ideas by political leaders. The concept of the use of coins as a means of disseminating political propaganda was perfected under the Romans.

The concept of using coins to commemorate their deeds by emissions of coins and medals was also a Roman innovation. Great events, like the conquests of new provinces, the putting down of revolts, and other events of equal political importance were thus forever preserved for posterity on the indestructible metals.

In the later periods of western civilization, the concept of power and leadership, the concept of the sovereignty over a state was disseminated in the portrait coinage of the kings and emperors of the European powers and the many principalities of medieval times.

During the Renaissance period sculptors transferred their creations to medallion art, and since then medals have been a common medium of preserving for posterity ideas and concepts that are not only cultural, but also political, religious, satirical and propagandistic.

In England, during the 17th and 18th century the token as a means of disseminating ideas, and as a means of advertising prominent men, the commerce of the nation, or the products of the issuing sponsor set a pattern for future generations to follow.

These tokens, issued primarily in a time of stringency when small change was scarce, was needed desperately to fill the needs of daily transactions in retail trade, was the first large use of copper for such purposes at a time when silver was scarce, and at the same time evidenced the first large emission by private individuals of a medium of exchange when the sovereign state was unable or unwilling to perform this function.

This prolific issue of copper tokens was various in expression, being largely used to advertise business enterprises, but a great proportion were used to commemorate "The Wooden Walls of England", its military and naval heroes and their victories while many of them were purely political and propagandistic in nature.

Wherever political power or leadership was depicted the effigy of the reigning king was stamped on the token, and, in other instances they depicted national military and naval heroes.

In the United States, the use of tokens, medals and medallions as a media of political propaganda has reached a higher peak than ever contemplated by the Roman emperors. They have deviated, however, from those early instruments of propaganda, and, have largely departed from any tradition or purpose that may have developed in the issue of the English tokens and medals.

American political propaganda on metallic pieces differs from all previous cultures and has set a new pattern in political numismatics. It represents as much a departure from old world cultural and numismatic criteria just as the American constitution and bill of rights represented a departure from all previous political inheritance.

Our country's political history is not only indigenous, fresh and inspiring but was something new in Western political philosophy. Similarly, our party system, the selection of candidates at conventions, the extension of suffrage to all, the development of an election machinery built up from the grass roots of precinct and ward also differs from all previous political history.

Thus, also the buildup of a presidential campaign, and the political issues that affect the election of one candidate or the other is another innovation in Western political history.

As a natural and concomitant development of American politics as represented by the presidency, we have, of course, developed our own numismatic expression in the satirical tokens and election medallions that found birth in Jacksonian days.

In other spheres we have developed a series of commemorative and expository pieces issued at various centenary celebrations, as well as commemorative coins and medals, inauguration medals, funeral issues, and related emissions.

We have preserved through the engraver's art portraits of our presidents on our State Bank notes, fractional currency and regular issue paper money.

Our regular coinage, because of the fear of our early founders of the growth of the idea of royalty or dictatorship remained inviolate to portraiture, until the tradition of a symbolic representation of

William Henry Harrison, the "Old Tippecanoe Whig," was elected in 1840 as America's ninth president, and died after only a month in office. His vice president, John Tyler, succeeded him. The election of 1840 was dubbed the "log cabin and hard cider" campaign. There are two reverses here with the Harrison profile—obverse token—one pictures the log cabin symbol, the other pro-campaign. There are two reverses here with the Harrison profile—a profile, has Loco Foco on the reverse. The Whigs dubbed the Democrats "Loco Focos."

Liberty was broken in 1900 with the appearance of George Washington on the Lafayette Dollar.

Thereafter, the symbolic slowly gave way, when in 1903 the portraits of Jefferson and McKinley appeared on the gold commemorative dollars that celebrated the centenary of the Louisiana Purchase.

Our first regular coinage to depict a president is the Lincoln cent which was first issued in 1909. Then came the Washington quarter in 1932, the Jefferson nickel in 1938 and the Roosevelt dime in 1946.

The Franklin Half dollar, first issued in 1948, represents our only great American, on our regular coinage that never attained to the Presidency, but Franklin definitely belongs in such company because of the great political influence he exercised in the founding of our country.

Our commemorative issues of half dollars depicts other presidents, such as, Coolidge, Lincoln, Grant, James Monroe and John Quincy Adams, while the Antietam half dollar depicts General McClellan, the defeated presidential candidate in the election of 1864, and the Arkansas Robinson Fifty Cent has the head of Joseph T. Robinson, the defeated vice-presidential candidate in the election of 1928.

History has been interpreted in many ways. Some interpret it by a documentation of facts; some from a purely economic viewpoint, others from the biographical while still others take the philosophical slant. Politics is part of all history as it intertwines and overlaps all points of view.

As a means of interpreting history in this country, it is the most vital and colorful, for only in America can it truly be said to be the science of human relations, or history in action, and nowhere else does it so vividly portray the hopes and ideals of a people than in a presidential election, when the democratic process has its most popular expression.

Nowhere else in history can it be said that although the contenders and the party principles differ in ideology as to the means to employ in achieving certain ends, yet both are directed to the same results.

While history may be said to be a systematic recapitulation of facts and deeds that are variously interpreted, the science or art, of numismatics can be of great aid to the various interpretations by its systematic study of the metallic issues of coins, tokens, medals, medallions or related material.

While the study of coinage, or paper money issues, may reflect the changing economic and financial circumstances of a country, it cannot, however, fully illustrate the dramatic forces of opposing political and economic thinking like the campaign medal, or token can.

The individuals that are the focal points of such issues, and who are some times swept into presidential eminence, illustrate the (Continued on Page 36)

Dealer Confidence

Two dozen coin dealers met in the East Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in New York City last week. They came from eight states to discuss the current roll business during a four and one-half hour session. All operating and economic factors were discussed.

Dick Johnson

Invitations were sent to dealers of varying experience: some of the old hands as well as some newer dealers. Since the roll business had "softened" in spots within the last two months, some people were concerned. Outcome of the discussions was a re-establishing of dealer confidence in prices. Price, of course, plays an important part in a dealer's operation—price is important to collectors also. For a dealer his prices must cover his costs, overhead, and a profit. For collectors, price determines the amount of items in their collection. An analogy of dealer pricing can be drawn from the philatelic world in a book just published. Written by Herman Herst Jr., "Nassau Street" describes a quarter century of stamp dealing.

In it author Herst observes: "One fact that many collectors seldom realize is that when buying rarities, their best buys are invariably the items on which they paid too much. When a reputable dealer offers an unusual item in perfect condition at double catalogue, for example, the collector can be certain that it is worth it, particularly if its equal cannot be bought for less. On the other hand, another item at one-fifth or one-tenth of catalogue, although seeming a bargain, simply points to the fact that the catalogue is out of line with the market."

Collectors can always be certain of fair pricing from reputable dealers. This fact is based upon the economic law that if they price too high, they are soon out of business for lack of customers.

Likewise, if a dealer sells too cheaply, he is also soon out of business because there is no profit... so the wise and experienced dealer will know his market and his customers. It is on this basis that reputations are built.

An Open Letter

To: Vice President Richard Nixon and Senator John Kennedy:

Where do you stand on the issuance of commemorative coins?

We think our thousands of numismatic readers will be greatly interested in your comments.

Recent administrations in Washington have not been in sympathy with the issuance of commemorative coins, much to the disappointment of millions of collectors.

They would like to see such historic events as the admission of Alaska and Hawaii and our space advancement preserved for posterity in the undisputedly lasting form of commemorative coinage.

Our readers will await your answer—we are sharing in advance this letter with them. Thank you for your comments in advance; we recognize these are busy days for you!

Sincerely,
D. Wayne Johnson,
Editor, COIN WORLD

Brooklyn Club Meets Monthly

The Brooklyn Coin Club, Brooklyn, New York, had part in the planning of the Metropolitan New York Convention in May. It has some social meetings besides regular meetings twelve times a year.

It was established in 1933. There are 90 members. It meets the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Granada Hotel, Atlantic avenue.

The board of governors is composed of Charles Hollander, Sidney H. Kitzler, and Max L. Kaplan. Officers are elected in December. Jack Nannery, Brooklyn, is president; William Wild, Brooklyn, is vice president; Harold Schornstein, Lynbrook, is treasurer, and James A. Brown, Newark, N. J., is secretary.

Letters To The Editor

You're doing a great job with the Coin World newspaper. It and the Scrapbook are my two favorite coin periodicals. I received the latest Coin World and another monthly paper the same day recently. I couldn't help but notice how far behind the times that your competitor was. Coin World is up to date each week and that is important to a coin dealer as well as an investor.

Harold Garrett
Sedalia, Mo.

I have read a copy of your paper and think it is the best in the world....I guess that's why you named it Coin World! Here's my year's subscription.

Bill Maier
Aberdeen, S. D.

A collector friend of mine gave me a copy of your Coin World. To me your newspaper is one of the finest I've read in the numismatic field. I have long felt the need of a weekly coin newspaper such as yours and I'm really happy that I've found such an interesting one. Enclosed is my year's subscription and I'm eagerly awaiting my own first issue.

Clarice Ruff
Cheyenne, Wyo.

Your paper doesn't have a mint report. My idea is to have a weekly mint report from each mint. Others have a monthly report but they are two months behind. An up to date mint report would stabilize prices on rolls and would tell the collector and investor what and when to buy.

R. B. Bowden
Kansas City, Kans.

(Editor's note—Coin World published the most comprehensive mint report possible once a month. It gives the mintage by months by denomination by mints for both 1960 and 1959. See page 33 of the September 29th issue for this detailed feature. However, in response to many requests, Coin World will carry a brief summary each week of the current total mintage.)

Were you aware that the term "small date" (hereinafter referred to as SD) appears on all but four of your 48 pages, issue of September 29? What did you advertise back in the pre-SD era? I don't save back copies so I can't refer to them.

I think that if the mint comes up with another mid-year stinker, I'll plan to suspend my charter subscription until the odd-balls are through monopolizing your once-interesting paper. Your "For Trade" column used to be a real delight (in the pre-SD era). I effected many mutually beneficial trades with collectors throughout the country....but now?

Now I must plow through 50 SD ads to find one collector's advertisement. Even Harry Legg, Roscommon, Michigan, (your most ardent trader-advertiser,) has succumbed to the SD lure.

When the SD days are over we'll have to shed a mutual tear for the poor guys whose bags of SD's won't purchase a share of Cuban sugar stock. And you, Mr. Johnson, may you make the lettuce while the SD's shine—pull out all those SD ads in issue 24 and you'd be broke and we'd have a 4-pager.

Meanwhile, run the enclosed ad in the "For Trade" section—wedge it deep in the SD pile and let's see how many numismatists find it. Want to take any wagers?

Hal F. Riehle
Titusville, Fla.

This is to advise you to cancel my ad under classification No. 71 Mint Errors, which I requested you to run three times in succession. The first time was enough! Could have sold three times more if I had them, from the first publication. I tell every one your publication is the best. Keep up the good work.

John S. Syphrett
Willis, Texas

(Editor's note—We hope Mr. Riehle gets the same numismatic results that Mr. Syphrett did on his mint error ad.)

Answering Mr. Irelan's letter, the president of the Joplin Coin

Club....I agree there is too much noise about the 1960 cents. But as any experienced collector will know, these are only hot at the moment, they will and have cooled down considerably.

Regarding the A.N.A. issue of Sept. 9th, you only painted the rosy side of the A.N.A. Why not the real side.

I attended the A.N.A. convention in Boston. Arrived Wednesday afternoon and put in my exhibit.... I was told that the exhibit case limit was three, but low and behold, there were some competitive exhibits with 20 cases or more. Not the non-competitive exhibits of Cardinal Spellman, or the Smithsonian Institute....this we can overlook as they had extra cases that people did not want to use so they gave them out. But how about telling the small guy about the extra cases?

Exhibit prizes were awarded on Saturday morning. But when we went to see the winning exhibits, they were mostly all taken out of the cases. It seems that all exhibits had to be out by Saturday noon and many pulled their exhibits out sooner. Many people who came to the convention Saturday, were treated to a closed exhibit room and a closed bourse room. Any local convention is run better than this one was.

Most all of the people, and many of the dealers left Saturday afternoon. The banquet was Saturday night and who wanted to stay around? As for the door prizes, instead of three door prizes given out by a drawing, why not use this money for a souvenir to all of the ladies instead of three lucky ones?

There was also about a 12 piece orchestra. A five piece band would have done just as well. There was no dancing. A three act show that only the singer used the facilities of the music. The ventriloquist and the mental wizard certainly did not need music!

The affair was run so cheap and lousy that in the middle of the last act, the orchestra just got up and left. The poor entertainer had to say this is all folks and walk off. For shame, for shame this is the crummiest thing that could have happened to anyone.

The best in show prize was awarded to a professional exhibit of Massachusetts money. This exhibit was as large as a compact car, had four telephones with separate tape recorders, lights etc. It was a professionally made exhibit that I was lead to believe is rented to museums, used by banks etc. In my opinion it was not proper to enter it as a competitive exhibit. I agreed with all of the other awards.

Back to Mr. Irelan's letter. As president of a club, he should speak and write with restraint. Your Coin World is one of the better paper publications. While we would all like to see articles of our own collection series publicized, this always is not possible. I am an advanced pattern collector, have won numerous awards for my pattern displays. The few pattern articles that appear once in a blue moon in the Scrapbook or Numismatist are my treasured readings. I have read papers before my club on patterns. To some, it was like agony to hear it. Others expressed encouraging interest.

Coin World is the voice of the people who collect coins. If you want to see other news, other articles than the small dates, the get to work and send them in.

P.S. Why not comment on the disgraceful A.N.A. membership list? You can go blind reading it, cannot find half of the names you look for....seems to me that with the A.N.A. growing by 3-400 members a month and all the log pouring in, that a better listing could be made!

Best wishes from both of us. What a tremendous piece of work you all do getting that paper out each week.

R. A. Wilson Sr. Is Feuding With U.S. Mint

R. A. Wilson Sr., Inglewood, Calif., resident, and publisher of the "American Standard Book of All U. S. Coins," has entered the 1943-copper cent discussion with great zest.

The 71-year-old numismatist who has been traveling from coast to coast recently had developed into a one-man feud with the United States Mint officials.

Wilson says he has the names

R. A. Wilson

Auction Is Attraction At Houston, Tex.

The Greater Houston Coin Club, Houston, Texas, has an auction at every second meeting. Special exhibits are displayed at meetings and the annual bourse. The annual banquet is in January.

There is a club library. All the club news is printed in "Coins Unlimited". A bourse and exhibits was held at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in April.

The club was established in September, 1955. There are 65 regular members and 11 junior members.

It meets the third Friday of every month, excepting December and January, which is the month of the annual banquet. Plans are being developed to have two meetings a month. It meets at 8 p.m. at the Y.M.C.A., 1600 Louisiana, Houston.

Officers are elected by mail in December. Mike McKay, Houston, is president; W. E. Powell, Houston, is vice president; Chris Johns, Houston, is secretary-treasurer; Doris Martin, Houston, is corresponding secretary; John S. Syphrett, Houston, is sergeant at arms; and the board is composed of A. I. Martin, Houston, W. J. Bingham, Houston, A. V. Montgomery, Houston, Norm Smith, Bellaire, Texas, and Jack Williamson, Houston.

and address of people who possess 1943 copper cents. Mint officials say there are none.

Wilson maintains he has affidavits obtained by a man whose son received one of the 1943 copper pennies in change on his paper route. The man spent $700 in chemical and other tests authenticating the coin.

"The first 1943 copper penny discovered sold for $32,000," reports Wilson. "I know of four that have sold for $15,000."

Wilson does not sell coins himself, but he is an avid collector and friend of collectors. A booster of Inglewood's numismatic organization (the Hub Coin Club of Inglewood, California), he never misses a local meeting—on the second Sunday of every month at the Lennox Women's club.

Coin-collecting readers of a California newspaper have been invited by the noted authority to write him any question or problem concerning U.S. coins. Address is P.O. Box 47655, Wagner Station, Los Angeles. He will answer them free of charge.

An indication of the large number of coin collectors in America is the popularity of Wilson's catalog. The 1960 edition (its 30th year) has already sold 65,000 since it came out in June. New printings are being readied to satisfy the overwhelming demand.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Wilson acquired his numismatic bent as a young bank clerk in Canada. He went to California in 1921, moving to Inglewood in the late 1920's.

A conscientious scanner of any change he receives, Wilson considers a 1909 cent his own prize possession. That was the year when the mint switched from Indian head cents to Lincoln cents. His copper has Lincoln on one side and the Indian head on the other.

The expert recently connected at a Reno, Nev., slot machine, and among the change falling into his hand was a 1938 Jefferson nickel worth $50.

Wilson goes into a bank in New York, buys $50 worth of cents minted in Philadelphia, then sells them in San Francisco for 10 or 15 cents each, because of the scarcity of Philadelphia coins on the west coast. He also sells coins from the now-defunct San Francisco mint in New York for a high profit.

Many Varieties

A total of 15,000 varieties of Civil War tokens have been discovered. Tokens were privately struck and circulated as money during the Jackson Hard Times, 1834-1841, and the Civil War, 1861-1865.

Michigan Man Finds Six Numismatic Errors

L. H. McQuestion, Highland Park, Mich., Chrysler Corp. designer who operates a small coin and stamp shop in his spare time, bought 2,500 cents in Norfolk Va., to hunt for unusual pieces for himself and his customers.

(He was hoping to find a 1960 small date cent.)

He didn't find it—but he did discover a numismatic error—in fact six of them!

He found six cents with bars between the 6 and the 0.

Now McQuestion wonders if his find is truly a rarity.

He has examined thousands of 1960 cents and has not seen such a defect; he has discussed it with other dealers and they haven't seen anything like it, either.

McQuestion, who lives at 13544 Woodward, Highland Park, Michigan, wants to hear from folks who may have similar numismatic errors. cents found a coin with the 6 eliminated.

Raymond T. Bonnette, employee of the Ferriday, La., post office, in his search for small date 1960

He was startled to find a cent dated "190."

The coin was struck at the Denver mint, according to Collector Bonnette.

Michael Dobrosky, Lorain, Ohio, is "coin-prone." He found an 1859 Indian head cent on the street a month ago and recently he discovered a 1826 cent as he was walking along a road. Dobrosky is seeking the value of the coins.

H. B. Hoagland, president of the Coast Coin Collectors' Club of the Gulfport-Biloxi, Miss., area, claims collecting coins is the only hobby he knows that actually does not cost one cent!

Hoagland, a collector since 1957, said coins increase in value the older and rarer they become.

"A true collector of coins is not interested in the profits made by selling coins," said Mr. Hoagland.

"They collect them for the sake of their beauty and enjoyment. I never look at a coin that I don't see something new or different than the last time I examined the coin."

"Coins are more of an investment than a hobby," he said. "To me," he continued, "collecting coins is the most fascinating hobby I have ever known."

"But," he further stated, "Collecting coins is more than just collecting the coins; it is finding out about the background of the coin, under what conditions the coin was minted, what condition the country in which the coin was made was in at the time the coin was minted, and a history of the coin itself."

A part of the coin collection of Ted Scott Jr. of Hampton, Mass., specialist in United States and Canadian coins, was shown during the month of September at the Lane Memorial Library, Newburyport, Mass.

Scott, who has been collecting for about 15 years, has about 40,000 coins in his collection. Paper money, gold and foreign coins are his sideline interests.

Virginians Dare Donna; VNA Convention Doubles!

More than 200 Virginians turned out Saturday, September 12, at the Dunes Motor Motel at Virginia Beach for the second annual convention of the Virginia Numismatic Association.

This attendance was in spite of and despite Hurricane Donna's grim warnings.

The radio and television blasted warnings, the newspapers consumed tons of print, but it seemed that the coin collector followed the adage of the post office department—neither sleet, nor rain...nor hail etc.

This attendance figure was double last year, the banquet seated twice as many, the bourse room reservations were sold out, double that of last year and the convention committee, headed by Bernard Drexler reports that the profits were doubled also.

Exhibition competition found the following winners:

Best in Show: Bernard D. Littlepage, "The Charm of Old Copper." Best in U.S.: Bernard D. Littlepage; second place, C. D. Mitchell; third place, R.E. Blount.

Best in foreign coins: Donald Roberts; second place, R. A. Myers; third place, H. H. Eggert.

Best in miscellaneous numismatology: Constance Field; second place, Bernard Drexler; third place, D. Roberts.

Best in U. S. currency: W. G. Moose.

Best in Confederate numismatics: Hugh Hawkins.

First place winners received handsome engraved wood plaques. The second and third place winners received specially designed parchment certificates of merit, issued only by the Virginia Numismatic Association.

During the annual board of governors meeting during the convention, the following were elected to office for 1960-61 for the Virginia Numismatic Association:

Hugh Hawkins, president, parent club, Monticello Coin Club of Charlottesville, Va.

B. D. Littlepage, first vice president, parent club, Virginia Peninsula Coin Club of Newport News, Va.

A. A. McGinnis, second vice president, parent club, Richmond Coin Club of Richmond, Va.

B. Drexler, secretary-treasurer, parent club, Tidewater Coin Club of Norfolk, Va.

J. A. Fuquay, sergeant at arms, parent club, Danville Coin Club of Danville, Va.

These officers were installed during the banquet. Ernest M. Seneca Jr., the charter president of the VNA, was presented with a past president's plaque during the banquet.

It was announced during the banquet that the 1961 convention would be held on the first weekend after Labor Day in September at the Monticello Hotel in Charlottesville, Virginia, the host club to be the Monticello Coin Club of that city. The 1962 Convention will be held on the weekend after Labor Day in September at the Hotel Danville, in Danville, Virginia, with the Danville Coin club of that city the host club.

"It was noted that statewide conventions hold a great appeal for the average collector, the prime reason being economic, the second the distance from home being shorter, so elaborate plans for travel etc. need not be made," convention officials observed.

Another convention first was that the author of the book for children, "Nails to Nickels", Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, was on hand to present her excellent work to the public for the first time.

The publishers, Little Brown and Co., selected the Virginia Numismatic convention and the place for the great event. The book, autographed by the author, sold very well.

Officers of the Virginia Numismatic Association for 1960 were: President, Ernest M. Seneca Jr., Tidewater Coin Club; vice president, Hugh Hawkins, Monticello Coin Club; secretary, Bernard Drexler, Tidewater Coin Club; treasurer, Howard Eggert, Tidewater Coin Club; sergeant at arms B. D. Littlepage, Virginia Peninsula Coin Club.

The 1960 board of governors was J. Roger Cobb, Tidewater

Coin Club; Robert Myers, Virginia Peninsula Coin Club; Charles E. Reed, Martinsville Coin Club; Mrs. A. E. Rife, Northern Virginia Coin Club.

E. G. Jones, Washington Numismatic Society; Allen A. McGinnis, Richmond Coin Club; W. C. Thacker, Monticello Coin Club; L. C. Ivey, Danville Coin Club; A. J. Jordan, Yorktown Coin Club; Mrs. D. V. Thomas, Stamp & Coin Club of Roanoke.

Second annual convention committee members were:

General chairman: Bernard Drexler. Co-chairman: Bernard D. Littlepage.

Program: Howard Eggert, Robert Myers.

Auction: E. M. Seneca Jr., B. D. Littlepage.

Exhibits: J. R. Cobb, C. Taliaferro.

Banquet: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fleming.

Bourse: Frank Sampson, Denton Probert.

Hospitality: N. A. McCully, Duane Coad.

Registration: Mrs. J. Klotz.

Prize: Randolph Owen.

Protection: C. L. Pritchard.

Publicity: H. L. Lohman.

Member clubs of the Virginia Numismatic Association include the Tidewater Coin Club, Norfolk; Virginia Peninsula Coin Club, Hampton; Martinsville Coin Club, Martinsville; Northern Virginia Coin Club, Front Royal, Va.; Washington Numismatic Society, Washington, D. C.; Richmond Coin Club, Bon Air, Va.

Monticello Coin Club, Charlottesville, Va.; Danville Coin Club, Danville, Va.; Yorktown Coin Club, Yorktown, Va.; Stamp and Coin Club of Roanoke, Roanoke, Va.

Egyptians Letter Coins

In the third century B. C. Egyptians worked out a system of using their alphabet to represent numerals on coins: Letters from A to I stood for numbers from one through nine; K to P 20 to 100 by 10's. The remaining letters were used to express values in hundreds.

Speculation Is Not Investment With Coins

By Jim Kelly

333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Speculation of any kind, whether it be stock market or coins, is fraught with risk, particularly so when it is based on enthusiasm and mass hysteria rather than on facts and an honest appraisal of the situation. This was never more emphatically proven than the summer fiasco on the 1960 small date cents. These coins are scarce and will certainly command a sizeable premium, possibly somewhere near their peak price of last July.

Jim Kelly

However, the intense speculation which sent the price completely out of reason, and the equally fast decline when the market would not absorb the quantity available at anywhere near the top price, will have an unfavorable reaction on their future recovery.

We have always felt, and still do, that coins are one of the finest investments, but like most anything else, too much of even a good thing can be disastrous. Those who were fortunate enough to have obtained these when issued, and who turned them at a tremendous profit, can do considerable celebrating.

Others who bought them at the top of the market will have to hold them for quite a while or take a loss. The first will give most of it to Uncle Sam; the latter will have a hard time taking a deduction. And the one thing both will have in common is probably a hangover.

Bryan Dollar Pattern For '60 Campaign Coins

A new type of political campaign advertising is catching the attention of coin collectors throughout the United States.

"Campaign Coins" have been issued along the same general idea as the "Bryan Dollars" which were very popular political satirical pieces during the 1896 and 1900 campaigns of William Jennings Bryan.

These medals are not true coins, but are of very high quality silver alloy and have the appearance of a very fine medal. They are just slightly larger than a silver dollar.

The coin for the Republican party shows sculptured busts of Presidential Candidate Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate. The reverse shows the G.O.P. elephant saying, "We don't care how you vote.....just so it's Republican."

The Democratic coin has profile sculpturing of John Kennedy, the presidential candidate and Lyndon B. Johnson, who is seeking the vice presidency, featured on the obverse. The reverse exhorts voters to "Put a Democrat in the White House." The Democratic donkey is also pictured.

These campaign advertising coins are being sold at $1 each and five coins for $4 through coin dealers and are also available by writing to "Coins," Box A, Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Additional information is also available by writing to the above address.

The coins were designed as a pocket souvenir for party stalwarts to carry as an indication of their support for a favorite candidate, but are turning into a very popular item with coin collectors as well.

Merle A. Thiele, president of Special Services, Inc., originated the idea and the basic design of the campaign coins with help from his wife and Larry Connor, an artist friend.

Connor translated the idea into something the coin engraver could follow.

The Wendell-Northwestern Co., Minneapolis, Minn., struck the medals.

To date there have been 5,000 of each struck in German silver (nickel-silver) and 1,000 Democratic struck in oxidized bronze in order.

Six of each have been struck in sterling silver; additional sterling coins will be struck if there is a demand for them.

The sterling coins were presented to Democratic Candidate John Kennedy and Vice President Richard Nixon when they were in Sioux Falls for the National Plowing contest, held there recently.

Tyler Group In Monthly Session

The East Texas Coin Club, Tyler, Texas, was established October 1, 1956. There are 50 members. It meets the fourth Monday of each month at 7:15 p.m. at the Texas Power and Light Auditorium, 224 N. Broadway, Tyler.

Cone Birdwell, Tyler, is president; Charles Welch, Tyler, is vice president; and Billy Porter, Tyler, is secretary-treasurer.

"DISPLAY PACKAGING SPECIALISTS FOR COIN COLLECTORS"

Honest! Women Guarding Money!

Automation has forced the government to allow women to help guard the printing of America's money.

The Bureau of Engraving, forced to make an almost 50 percent reduction in its 6,300 workers after new labor-saving machinery was introduced, found that women would like to be money guards, rather than be laid off.

Bureau Director Henry Holtz-claw, when openings became available on the male guard force, thought he might be able to give some of the surplus women jobs as guards. Two weeks after posting vacancy notices, he was swamped with 233 applications for 17 openings.

He thought that expectations of excitement, variety and desire for a change were reasons for so many applications.

Written tests and physical examinations were given, and 17 married women with an average age of 45 were admitted to the force for a three-week training course.

Since then, the 17 have qualified on the bureau's target range with .38 caliber pistols. On the job, they are armed with the same pistols and carry them in shoulder hangbags.

Their training also covered first aid, the special rules and regulations of the bureau, fire regulations, and especially, how to watch for persons trying to smuggle out money.

After graduation, the women were assigned to security duties on the same basis as men, with one exception. They work only the day shift.

Director Holtzclaw said: "I don't believe in dumping women on the streets at midnight."

The women didn't think their families minded them being guards. One said that "At first they teased me, but now they're all proud of me."

The approximately 70 male guards, according to Holtzclaw, "were apprehensive at first, but we've had no adverse reaction since the women have been on the job."

"A PICTURE OF CONTRAST" The Eye CAN Tell!!

Some of you, no doubt, have noticed the different SIZES of the date on the 1960-P nickel. After a meticulous study of many of these from various sources, I have found TWO VERY DISTINCT types: the LARGE WIDE date and the SMALL NARROW date! Quite a contrast indeed from the 1960-P cents.

For your numismatic pleasure, the following is offered at the following introductory prices:

LARGE WIDE date: clearly defined LARGE numerals WIDELY spaced each 30c

SMALL NARROW date: SMALL numerals, CLOSELY spaced with emphasis on the SHORTNESS of the tail on the 9. each $1.85

THE PAIR $2.00

A.N.A.

1269 Grand Concourse

Bronx 52, N. Y.

N.E.N.A. Meet October 15-16

The 16th annual New England Numismatic Association, Inc. convention and conference will be held this year at Providence, R.I. October 15 and 16 at the Sheraton Biltmore Hotel.

Dr. Francis Constable, president of NENA this year, had this to say:

"Because the A.N.A. convention was in Boston, Mass., we thought we would have to hold our convention on a somewhat modulated basis this year, but as the time draws nearer to October 15 and 16 we find that due to the ever increasing interest that we shall have to have our usual full scale convention."

On Friday evening, October 14, there will be the usual get-together room where early arrivals can meet friends, talk coins, and enjoy refreshments.

A good bourse is anticipated; all available space is taken.

Ray Page of Providence will conduct the auction in a somewhat different manner. There will be no auction catalogues or mail orders. Everything will be sold at the highest bidder at the convention. Every piece will be on display throughout the day. Material consists of early U.S. with a lot of the rarities of the Lincolns and Indian heads in uncirculated and proof.

An important feature of the convention will be the collectors' exhibits. There will be the three top prizes of silver Revere bowls plus 15 ribbon awards. For the best exhibit of the convention there will be an engraved silver bowl given by Governor Del Sesto of Rhode Island. The Governor may personally present this award to the winner at the banquet.

For display cases exhibitors may write or see Donald S. Wrathall, 47 Common Street, Providence, R. I.

Saturday evening there will be a buffet, and on Sunday the banquet will be held. Another feature will be a sound motion picture "Let's Take a Trip" which is a film of the complete process of producing a medal or coin, from the artist to the finished product.

Victorians Are To Hold November Fete

Allan Klenman is chairman of the committee to plan the annual banquet of the Victoria Numismatic Society on Saturday, November 5, at 7 p. m. at the Monterey, Victoria, British Columbia.

Serving with him will be Mrs. Grace Cox, Mrs. Roma George and Mrs. Dorothy Brown.

There will be an auction, special prizes and favors, the committee said.

W. (Harry) Goodman is the new editor of "Vintage and Mintage," the society's publication, succeeding George Fairfield in the post.

Members were reminded Victoria centennial medals are still available at $2.75 for bronze and $5 for silver from Abner Garland, Ste. 15, 749 McClure Street, Victoria.

Vecturists Plan Changes

A 16-page booklet containing the new American Vecturist Association constitution, the code of ethics and a two-page history of the organization is on its way to members, according to J. M. Coffee Jr., of Boston, Mass., editor of "The Fare Box," official publication of the A. V. A.

Editor Coffee prepared the history of the A. V. A. for the booklet.

Another innovation for the club will be a new A. V. A. seal which is now under consideration by the executive board.

Other suggested proposals for the A. V. A., as announced by President F. Gordon Smith, are as follows. He invites comments or further ideas from members:

Publication of complete annual reports of officers; inclusion of the A. V. A. seal on membership cards; issue certificates to past A. V. A. officers; advertise the program in current coin magazines; put A. V. A. numbers on inexpensive metal pocket pieces; enclose applications for membership with copies of Fare Box; every member get a member; question and answer column in The Fair Box.

Make it possible to pay the $30 life membership in three equal monthly installments; publish nominations for office at least twice in Fare Box before mailing ballots; send notification by election committee to secretary to notify candidates immediately; have A. V. A. representation at each A.N.A. convention by local A. V. A. member

Publish proposals when approved by executive board in the Fair Box; obtain small photo of each member and put up in suitable mounting for archives and for sale; have a special fund raising project through awarding of rare token.

A few Philadelphia Transportation Company tokens, issued during a special advance showing of new subway cars, were made available to collectors through the good offices of Editor Coffee who discussed release of the tokens with an official of the company.

There were only 60 of the original 500 tokens struck left; the official was persuaded by Coffee through the historical, educational and patriotic appeal of token collectors to release them at $1 each.

If the supply is not exhausted, they can be obtained by sending one dollar plus postage to Public Relations Office, Philadelphia Transportation Co., 200 W. Wyoming, Philadelphia, Pa., asking for the Market-Frankford souvenir token. Only one to a person will be allowed.

Alaska Music Commemorative

Alaska Coin Club Is Agent For Music Medal

The Alaska Coin Club is the sole distributor of a medallion commemorating the fifth annual Festival of Music.

The design was suggested by the Festival board of advisors, submitted by Paul Hoblit and executed in high relief by Herff Jones Company, Indianapolis, Indiana.

A total number of 7,505, was struck. Two were in gold, three in silver and the balance in bronze. The medallion is one and one-half inches in diameter, 1/8 inch thick, finished in antique bronze.

The first silver and bronze medallions were presented to President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, on their visit to Alaska.

The gold medallions were presented to Robert Shaw and Julius Herford co-directors of the Festival. The second and third silver medallions were presented to Mary Hale and Margaret Rutledge, executive director and comptroller of the Festival respectively.

It is anticipated that if a sufficient demand is expressed by the numismatists for the silver medallions, a limited number will be struck to fill the demand. The dies will then be destroyed. This will constitute the entire coinage. Silver medals are $10

Orders may be placed with J. Francis Dusek, president Alaska Coin Club, Post Office Box 325, Anchorage, Alaska. Cost of the bronze medals is $5.00; this price includes a medal with a pendant ring attached, too.

Burglars In Florida Take Dealer Coins

Burglars entered the Stamp and Coin Shop, 246 W. Garden Street, Pensacola, Fla., and stole rare coins valued at $970, according to W. E. Eisele Jr., the manager.

Frederick, Maryland, police are investigating the robbery at the home of George M. Schmidt, who said his collection of currency and coins worth $500 was missing. Schmidt said he had been collecting the money for 40 years.

Burglars took a watch and a coin collection from a Hammond, Ind., home recently. The coin collection was worth $40.

Old coins and currency with a face value of $100 was taken from the William Carnes resident, 1206 Indiana Avenue, La Porte, Ind.

Robert L. Telle, 18, Petersburg, Va., magazine salesman, was arrested by Mount Vernon, Iowa, police after he exchanged $17 in silver dollars for currency at a restaurant. The coins were identified as those from a coin collection of Wes D. Kendall, north of Bertram, Iowa, missed after Telle had allegedly been seen in the backyard of the Kendall home.

Sarah A. Miner, 303 W. Decatur Street, Decatur, Ill., reported her coin collection in eight to 11 folders was stolen from her home recently.

Doctor Has Too Much Cents

Dr. L. Carswell Harpe, Lexington, North Carolina, optometrist, is a little sorry he ever heard of the cent with the small date!

And he was only trying to do his good deed for the day!

He was reading in the September 18 issue of the Charlotte, North Carolina, Observer an article saying it was rumor about the small date cents being worth more than one cent.

Dr. Harpe wrote the columnist, Rolfe Neill, and explained about the small dates on both cents and sent him a clipping from the September 22 issue of Coin World to show him the small date cents were worth from $4.25 to $6.75.

Dr. Harpe added at the bottom he would give Columnist Neill $2 for each one that he would send him.

The letter went in Neill's column. Dr. Harpe has been swamped with letters from three states enclosing anywhere from one to 25 cents. All wanted $2 for them!

Auction Sees High Prices

Coin collectors of the Arkansas Valley Coin Club, Rocky Ford, Colo., paid $10.50 for a 50 cent piece and $2.60 for a nickel during a monthly club meeting.

The 50-cent piece was an 1879 half dollar. The nickel was dated 1883, and a 1834 half dollar sold for $3.50.

Howard Heise of Lamar, conducted a 15-question quiz as part of the program.

Tom Pinnell, Manzanola, club librarian, had a perfect score. He received a special prize for the most correct answers.

The quiz concerned metal content of coins, dates, the first mintings of certain coins, designers of coins and legends on coins.

Al Overton of Pueblo reported on the 1960 convention of the American Numismatic Association in Boston during August. Overton also provided exhibit material with Lee Black of Lamar and Borker.

Carr Will Be Token Club Host

William L. Carr, of Akron will be host to the quarterly meeting of the Pittsburgh District Token Collectors' Club at his home, 2648 Pelton Avenue, Sunday, October 16, at 2 p.m.

This meeting will attract both the Pittsburgh District membership as well as A.V.A. members in a tri-state area.

The summer session was held with Prosper De Vos, 1448 Orchardview Drive, Greentree, Pittsburgh.

Only Public Sale

The 1915 Panama Pacific $50 pieces commemorating the opening of the Panama Canal were the only $50 gold coins struck and sold to the public.

Enthusiast Names Many Appeals

Jim West, Bellaire, West Virginia, and his wife, Mary, look with pride at a portion of their $5,000 coin collection. West started from scratch four years ago and with little more than $1,000 invested has built one of the largest collections in the Wheeling area. One of his sources of valuable items is trading through the Wheeling Coin Club. He collects coins for three reasons—it's educational, there is no risk and he likes to tie his money up in cash! Most of West's collection is kept in a bank for safety. His wife is just as enthusiastic as he about collecting.

Schulman Reports

Fall Sales, New Books Discussed By Schulman

By Hans M. F. Schulman

Coin World readers are particularly interested in foreign coin auctions. We wish to draw your attention to sales by G. Lendin (Sept. 25, Oct. 12, Oct. 25), Slacks (Oct. 5 etc.), Hirsch (Sept. 28), Adolph Hess (Oct. 28), Jacques Schulman and by our own organization at the Waldorf (Nov. 19).

We have given you many details on these sales, but we did not mention the English "Lockett" sale on Oct. 25. This is the seventh part of the celebrated Lockett collection and as usual, beautifully catalogued by the Baldwins in London. The sale will be held at Glendining in their usual manner.

Our own English sale catalog.

the Howard D. Gibbs collection of English obsidional, siege and counterstamped pieces is now off the press. Only 300 copies have been sent to collectors in the U.S.A. and anyone with interest in these series should let the Schulman firm know.

We also intend to report on unusual results of auction sales.

New publications: Last summer we announced Burzio's "Diccionario" but we never owned a copy. A few days ago I received my copy and this monumental work in three volumes (one for plates) was printed in Santiago de Chile and retails at $35.00. It is the last word in identifying Spanish and Spanish American coins.

If you have a counterstamp on a Mexican Revolutionary coin but you do not know that it is Mexico, you can look up the counterstamp in the new "diccionario" and solve your problem.

G. Dressart of the Brazilian Numismatic Society sent me his monograph on the Dutch colonial coins of Brazil. A beautiful job of good research and a very interesting book, it gives in detail all the Dutch colonial varieties which ever came on the market and where. My congratulations Dr. Dressart.

Did I ever mention to you that while in the Netherlands I came across a new book on Dutch silver and copper coins of the Royal period 1800 till today J. A. C. Van Mill printed 500 small booklets with details about these coins for each date, a price or value is given.

Illustrated and with its 84 pages, it is a charming booklet which can be used as an appendix to Jacques Schulman's standard work on these series.

Personalia: We had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Makomaski, the well-known psychiatrist in his new home in upstate N.Y. and we saw the work he has been compiling on valuations of gold coins through the last 10 years.

It is fascinating to see the prices of individual coins in recent auctions all over the world and with Dr. M's thoroughness you can be sure the information is correct.

Dr. Bentin flew in from South America and we had a fascinating time hearing how his family, on his wife's side, is directly descending from Pope Clement IX.

Renato Rocca of Milan had the unfortunate chance to get into New York at the same time as hurricane Donna. No one had time to receive him because everybody was rushing home. Sorry Renato. We met some of the witnesses subpoenaed by the U.S. government in the case of the false gold dollars.

Associate Abner Kreisberg writes me that he was greatly impressed meeting Israel's number one numismatist, Leo Kadman, who has donated his collection to the government and who is building the Kadman Numismatic Museum in Tel Aviv. Kadman is also managing director of the Shikun Workers Housing Company.

"New dealers in the business panic and cut prices. Nobody can make a living cutting prices!" "You don't sell every single day."

"Don't follow the leader like a bunch of sheebs—know the business," Ross counseled.

The Brooklyn dealer expressed concern of the dealers in the session in protecting the investors.

"We are all agreed not to let them get hurt," he said. "We don't want them to be buying at high prices and then watch the price die."

Another informal agreement reached at the session involved purchase—or abstinence of purchase—of rolls during the early part of the year, according to the spokesman.

"If there is a low mintage, early purchase pushes up the price," Ross said.

"If there is a low mintage figure for nickels and cents the first month of 1961, we will ignore them to protect the market. After all, there are 11 more months of production in the year."

that roll business stimulates the science of numismatics. "We bring in collectors and investors," the dealers declared.

"We are forerunners in the stimulation of numismatics." "Look what Abe Kosoff said in defense of roll collecting in the September issue of 'The Numismatist'" cited Ross. "He said that we should co-exist—let those who want to buy rolls do so. He said let the others continue to buy the many coins available without regard to rolls."

Ross was generous in his praise of the Kosoff article as he pointed to Kosoff's long-standing reputation as a professional numismatist.

(Kosoff disclosed how the new investor branches out into "legitimate" numismatics through the initial collection of rolls and proof sets.

(Kosoff said the roll does not add, nor does it detract—the coin is still there. He also reasoned that the speculative angle and the creation of artificial rarities tend to help rather than hinder the supply of coins and consequently keep the price down rather than up.)

Ross reported that the group meeting in New York did not feel there was need for a roll trade association.

"In fact, everyone left the meeting his own free agent to act as an individual," Ross said.

"Business is good," he said. "Individually, we're all making money. We have complete confidence in the coin business. We predict the 1961 rolls will bring fabulously high prices."

There are ills in the business of coin roll dealing, Ross declared, but he predicted time will correct them.

"The time is not right for a formal organization," he theorized. "We all got the message!" he said as he referred to the meeting.

Convention Is Program Topic

Reports on the American Numismatic Association convention in Boston and a talk on "Confederate Money" by George Wait formed the program for the New Jersey Numismatic Society meeting, held in the Military Park Hotel, Newark, recently.

Wait explained the various types of money used by the Confederacy, the cancelled, the years of issue, the wide counterfeiting of these notes.

He showed examples of the use of some of these notes some years later for advertising for liniments.

Exhibits by the group and a question and answer period followed by the program.

1793 Chain Ameri

734. 1793 Chain Cent, Sh-1. Rare variety with "America" abbreviated "Ameri." Ext. Fine-50, shows little or no sign of circulation, choice light brown color. The Dr. Sloss specimen, Ext. Fine-45, sold for $1,900.00 in October of 1959. This specimen — one of the three finest known — should bring close to $2,500.00.

736. 1793 Wreath type with vine and bar edge, Sh-9. V. Fine 30 or even slightly better, lustrous olive brown color. Would have graded higher except for two very minor edge nicks on reverse. A superior coin in every respect, suitable for the finest collection. Should bring close to $500.00.

1793 Liberty Cap Cent

737. 1793 Liberty Cap Cent, Sh-13L. Ext. Fine, well struck, dark olive brown color. A beautiful rare genuine Cent, but some time in the distant past, it has been expertly cleaned and shows evidence of slight tooling. This, naturally, detracts some from its value but it still ranks with the finest specimens known. Should bring close to $3,000.00.
738. 1793 Wreath Cent, vine and bar edge. Date and most of the other lettering is readable, could be called Good except for several sizeable digs on both obverse and reverse. Still rare and in demand, should bring well over $50.00.
739. 1794 Sh-21, flat pole variety. V. Fine, although not boldly struck, small nick on rim back of head. Valued at $75.00.
740. 1794 Sh-22, bent hair lock variety. Fine, valued at $40.00.
741. 1794 Sh-30. V. Fine, would grade considerably higher except for roughness in field and corrosion spot on reverse. Still an attractive coin, worth close to $50.00.

743. 1794 Sh-44. Abt. Fine, $25.00.

745. 1794 Sh-60. Fine with brown steel color, Rarity 4. Valued at $60.00.
746. 1794 Sh-61. Only Fair, Rarity 4. —
747. 1794 Sh-63, Fallen 4 variety. Fine, obverse rather weakly struck. Valued at $25.00.
748. 1794 Sh-65, the shielded hair variety. Fine-V. Fine, olive brown color, $35.00.

757. 1796 Liberty cap, Sh-84. V. Fine, Medium brown color, an attractive and rare coin, valued at $175.00.

Rare 1799 Cent

777. 1799 V. Fine to Ext. Fine. Would compare with some of the finest known specimens except for light pitting on both obverse and reverse. There is actually little or no wear on the coin however, this roughness and the fact that there has been an attempt to remove it takes it out of the gem class. It is still in the top twenty specimens and should bring close to $2,000.00.
778. 1799 over 98 A good date with both of the knobs of the 9 distinguishable, though not sharp. Shows slight even wear, light brown color. V. Good to Fine by any standards and strictly Fine for this rare date. Valued at $375.00.
779. 1799 over 98 Purchased as V. Good 7. Date and Liberty are plain, reverse decipherable but weakly struck. Black color with some evidence of erosion. It is a rare and acceptable specimen but the best I could grade it would be Good to Very Good. Valued at $175.00.

victory of certain historical forces, while the defeated candidates may illustrate the defeat of other principles which at a later date and at the proper time may be victorious in their turn.

This is illustrated in some of the metallic emissions referred to. It is really the emissions of tokens, medals, medallions and related issues that tell the more colorful part of its history. This is especially true where slogans, catchwords, satirical and laudatory phrases attacking or praising the political leaders of the day are permanently inscribed for posterity.

Our political history, as represented by the presidency, has gone through various periods. First, the period of George Washington, the father of our country, was the period of the Federalist Political philosophy, with Alexander Hamilton as its prophet and its leading proponent.

In this period, our financial system was born, the mint act passed in 1792, and the basis of this system was the silver dollar patterned after the Spanish piece of eight. In this period, also, was founded the first Bank of the United States.

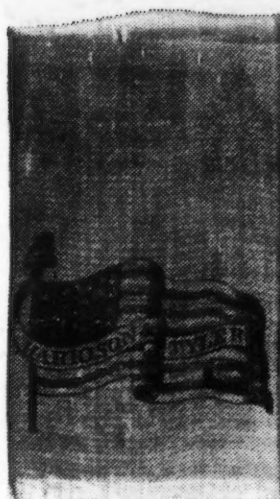

Contemporary coins and tokens were issued prior to the establishment of our coinage system, most of them privately, some by the States. Many of these pieces were issued with George Washington's profile or bust, which series were privately minted in England and brought to the United States. The origins of many of them are unknown, while it is surmised that some were intended as patterns.

These pieces plainly illustrate the high esteem in which Washington was held in those times. They also may illustrate that a people newly liberated from royalist tyranny were ready to accept Washington's presidency as a royal position because of their great love and trust in him.

It was Washington himself who nipped in the bud such incipient ideas of royalty by using his influence to strike out congressional provisions for having his portrait appear on our first coinage. As a result, the liberty head with the cap of liberty, as a symbol of freedom and democracy appeared on our coinage and remained on our coins for over 150 years.

PROOF SETS

Last week I was off on some prices, so I'll try again. I did not get enough buyers, only sellers who wanted to peddle hundreds of large and small date 1960 proofs. My finances allow purchases of only small lots of proofs so don't expect me to buy in 100's, etc.

I will open all brown envelopes or cardboard boxes before buying or selling!

I will accept any proof set in trade on merchandise, but please confirm first on trades over $20.

If there is anything you want, write, suggesting the prices you would like to pay. I'll do my very best to pick up anything ordered.

FOLKS...

I want to thank everyone for bearing with me! My store was under water for over a week as a result of the hurricane, and many orders were delayed. Also, in my last Coin World ad, I advertised some one-shot items very cheaply, and had to return a lot of checks.

Coin World ads are so cheap, I can afford a big ad with only one or a few of each to sell.

Understand, I held nothing back at the prices in my last ad. Anything in this ad was either un-ordered or I have bought some more since.

THOUSANDS OF USERS

EASY TO USE — FAST ECONOMICAL
ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

Does not add shine but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Tarnish vanishes and dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins. It does this in seconds. You will be amazed.

This product, the result of years of experiment, can be used safely on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for a 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins), carefully packed, unbreakable bottle, postpaid to any address in the U.S. or Canada.

The appearance of worn coins, large cents, small cents, etc., can be greatly improved by "highlighting", (contrasting light and dark). Use the Victory Miracle Cloth for this only 50c postpaid.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

We want you to try "CCC" on your counter. It sells! Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles (postpaid in the U.S.).

M.A.N.A. Conclave Packed With Thrills

Numismatists who attend the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association's eighth annual convention at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., October 28-30 will have a series of thrills in store for them, according to Chairman F. C. Schneider.

One of the thrills will be the capital city itself, Schneider pointed out as he described the beauties and historic significance of Washington.

"The site for our federal seat of government was selected by George Washington, the father of our country," Schneider pointed out. He reminded that the location of Washington, D. C., seat of our national government since 1800, was chosen only after many attempts to select a capital city had failed owing to a bitter rivalry between states, a settlement being effected by the patient efforts of Thomas Jefferson.

Largely due to the genius of its planner, Pierre Charles L'Enfant, the nation's capital has developed into one of the most beautiful cities in the world. In early days it centered around Lafayette Square, reaching east to the Capitol and west to old Georgetown. For this reason Colonial architecture is still predominant in this most attractive section of the city.

Washington has grown rapidly through the years, and the Capital City now reflects many styles of architectural design, although most of it conforms to the classical Greek and Roman. Its imposing buildings are seldom over five or six stories high. Its parks and grounds are filled with monuments and memorial honoring the heroes and statesmen of America. Long noted for its art galleries and museums, Washington now has legitimate theatres and a fine symphony orchestra, and is one of the finest cultural centers in America.

The District of Columbia is blessed with a mild climate throughout the year and is indeed a visitor's mecca.

The United States Capitol is located on Capitol Hill, south of Constitution Avenue, between North and South Capitol streets.

President Washington laid the cornerstone in 1793, and seven years later Congress met here for the first time. Dr. William Thornton was responsible for the early construction which included only the central portion of the building. The House extension was completed in 1857 and the Senate in 1859.

During the Civil War, the dome was finally completed. At this time Thomas Crawford's famous statue "Freedom" was raised into place, 70 years after the initial construction. The House and Senate Chambers, Statuary Hall, the Rotunda, and the President's Room are the most interesting.

The rotunda and statuary hall contain art works immortalizing American history and Americans who were part of it. Here also are the original chambers of the United States Supreme Court.

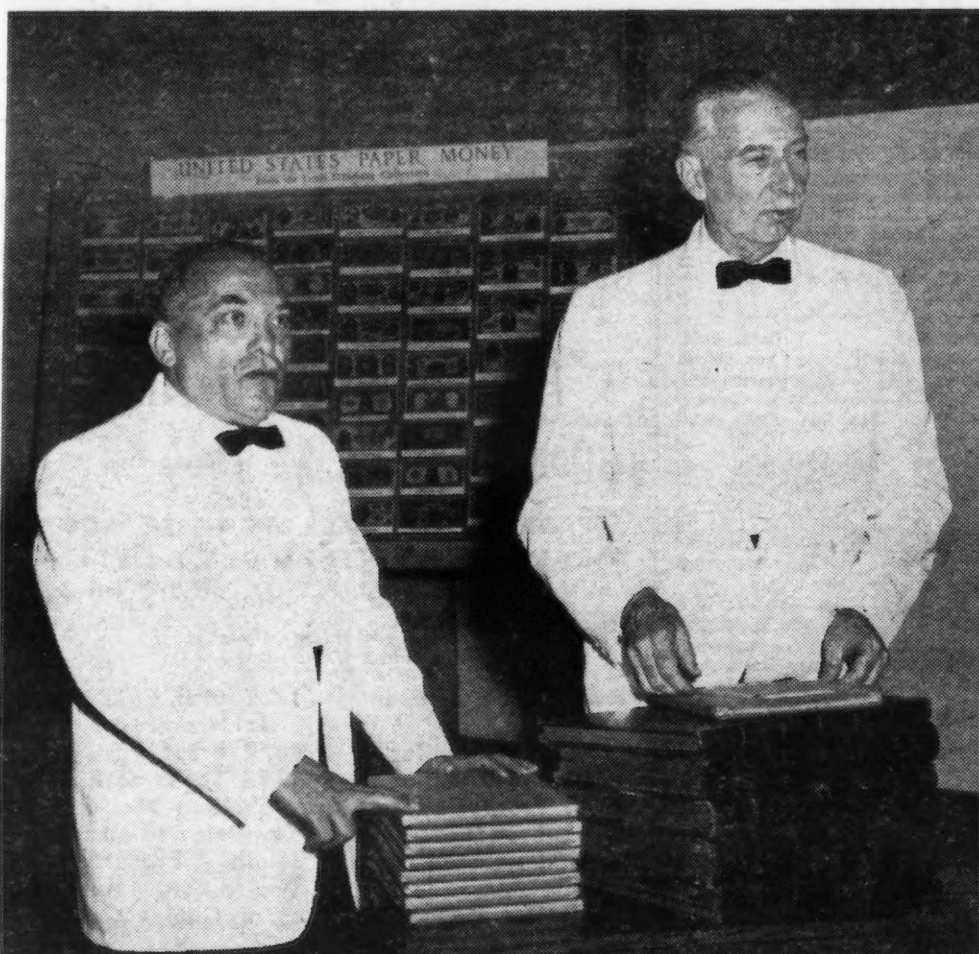

A subway car system connects the Senate Office building with the Capitol and an underground passageway links it with the Old House Office building. However, like the new House Office building, they are all within walking distance.

The equestrian statue of General Ulysses S. Grant, near the Mall approach is said to be the second largest in the world. At night, multi-colored lights play on a large fountain linking the Union Station Railroad terminal with the Capitol, and the huge illuminated dome is a beautiful spectacle seen from many parts of the city.

The United States Supreme Court is located north of East Capitol Street, on .st street, N.E., near the U. S. Capitol. This inspiring beautiful structure is of white marble in classic Corinthian design by Cass Filbert. The sculpture in the Pediment is by Robert Aitken.

The seated figures flanking the long entrance to the building are by James E. Fraser and symbolize the courts and solons of other ages. A large Memorial Hall leads the way to the supreme court chamber; the most impressive

Sol Kaplan, left, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is shown here with Dr. Leonard Carmichael, executive secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, during the Washington presentation of the Mikhailovitch collection of Russian coins and medals to the Institution by the duPont family. lection of Russian coins and medals to the Institution by the duPont family. M.A.N.A. delegates will see the collection in Washington October 28-30 as one of the convention highlights.

Famed Mikhailovitch Collection To Be Shown

The fabulous Mikhailovitch collection of Russian coins and medals—presented recently to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington by the duPont family—will be exhibited at the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association convention in Washington, D. C., October 28-30, it was announced by F. C. Schneider, chairman of the convention.

Exhibit of the world-famous collection has been arranged through the courtesy of Sol Kaplan, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is also world famous as an important coin dealer.

The Mikhailovitch collection includes every known coin struck in Russia since the reign of Peter the Great in 1721, up to 1917, when its owner and collector, Grand Duke George Mikhailovitch, was assassinated during the Bolshevik revolution.

A cautious man of great culture and learning, Grand Duke George's 10,000 coins and 4000 medals were all carefully packed in trunks, together with the three great leather-bound volumes describing practically every piece in the collection. From his home the boxes were transferred to the Moscow museum, of which he was director.

Somehow the collection disappeared. It would take a full-volume Eric Ambler thriller to trace its reappearance in Yugoslavia where it was handed over to Princess Xenia and her sister, Princess Nina, rightful heirs of the grand duke. With Europe in turmoil the collection moved from warehouse to warehouse in Italy during World War II.

Finally it arrived in America and the Princesses showed willingness to sell. Some coin dealers, not realizing the value of the collection, offered ridiculously low prices based on the gold value.

When Sol Kaplan got wind of this through a telephoned tip he boarded a plane within hours. Several trips followed to the coast where Stanford university professors were examining the coins and medals. Negotiations began. trips to New York to talk with the heirs, trips to his Cincinnati bank to negotiate a loan in order to make this substantial purchase possible.

Kaplan believed that such a unique collection should not be scattered to the four winds. Actually, the princesses had sold some individually valuable pieces at an auction at Christie's in London, and, from the very first the Cincinnati set to work to repurchase every one of these coins and medals.

He traced every one of the buyers, on flying trips to London and Paris and today the collection is over 95 per cent complete. On further trips he still hopes to repurchase the few missing coins.

Eventually, the collection arrived in Cincinnati. Part of it was exhibited there this year at the bank where it was kept as a safety measure. Mr. Kaplan made many calls on prospective buyers all over the country before the duPont family purchased it and gave it to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., at an impressive ceremony, with many important government and civic leaders participating.

Kaplan's specialty, for which he is known in every European capital, as well as the whole of the U. S., is assembling large, invaluable coin collections which he sells to people of means for their own interest, or as a contribution to a museum or institution. To find such civic-minded people who will spend one-half million dollars, or more, for a coin collection is not easy, but he has a good talking point by showing prospective customers that such gifts can be taken off their income tax, and in some cases, if the collection is really unique, at two or three times its purchase price.

The Mikhailovitch collection of Russian coins and medals, recently presented to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington by the duPont family, was shown in Cincinnati by Sol Kaplan, who negotiated the purchase. It will be shown to spectators at the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association convention October 28-30.

Capital Has Many Appeals

room in the U. S. supreme court building where historical cases are heard and decisions handed down.

The sessions which are open to the public begin at noon and last until 4:30. The seating capacity is limited to 144. The building also contains private chambers for the nine justices and their administrative staffs. It has been said that "the constitution is what the judges say it is."

The National Gallery of Art, Constitution Avenue and 6th street, N.W. is a center of great cultural value to all who are privileged to see it. This beautiful rose white marble building in the neoclassic style was designed by John Russell Pope.

The gift of Andrew Mellon, it was opened to the public in 1941. It holds a priceless treasure, numbering over 20,000 works of art that include paintings and sculpture, prints, drawings, and items of decorative art. The paintings and sculpture comprising the Mellon, Kress, Widener, and Dale collections, with gifts from other donors, are on the main floor. The walls of the rotunda are of Rockwood stone. The two Garden Courts are of limestone and in each there is a fountain surrounded by plants and flowers. The building is air conditioned.

The Smithsonian Institution, located on Adams Drive between 9th and 12th streets, N.W., is a place no Washington visitor should miss. It was founded in 1846 under the terms of the will of James Smithson, an English scientist, who bequeathed his entire fortune to the United States of America "to found at Washington under the name of the Smithsonian Institution an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

This purpose is carried out chiefly by means of research, exploration, publication, and museum and art gallery exhibits. In the course of the Institution's development, ten bureaus have grown up around it, which are now considered public necessities and as such are supported wholly or in part by Government funds.

The Institution itself, however, is a private foundation, the money having been left in trust to the United States. The Smithsonian bureaus are the United States National Museum, National Gallery of Art, National Collection of Fine Arts, Freer Gallery of Art, Bureau of American Ethnology, International Exchange Service, National Zoological Park, Astrophysical Observatory, National Air Museum, and the Canal Zone Biological Area.

Probably the most monumental landmark in the entire District of Columbia is the stately Washington Monument, located south of Constitution avenue and west of 15th street. Construction began in 1848 and was completed in 1884. This white marble shaft rises 555 feet, the tallest masonry structure in the world. The top may be reached by elevator, requiring 70 seconds, or by stairway of 898 steps.

A magnificent view of the city and broad expanse of Maryland and Virginia may be seen from its windows. Its simplicity of design, attributed to Robert Mills, is in keeping with the modesty of the great patriot it commemorates.

The grandeur and beauty of the Jefferson Memorial, located west of 14th Street, N. W., and near 14th Street Bridge on the Tidal Basin, facilitates the presentation of the annual cherry blossom festival main event, which is a pageant crowning the queen of the festival.

Jefferson Memorial reflects the classic style Thomas Jefferson used in designing the rotunda of the University of Virginia and his home, Monticello in Charlottesville. In the center of the circular Memorial Room stands the huge statue by Rudolph Evans; on the walls are four panels with inscriptions of Jefferson's best known writings.

Surrounding the Memorial are the well-known oriental cherry trees, usually in bloom early in April, lasting about two weeks, when thousands of visitors from all over the continent come to enjoy the beauty of the blossoms, and the festival events planned for them months in advance by Washington Convention and Visitors bureau annually.

The White House, located at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, N.W., is the executive mansion. All of the presidents except Washington have lived here. The original plans were drawn by James Hoban and the cornerstone was laid in 1792.

The mansion was completed in 1800 and burned by the British during the War of 1812. The oldest public structure in Washington, it is a perfect example of the late eighteenth century Renaissance and has the simple dignity of a gracious American home.

Visitors are permitted to enter the White House at certain times and under certain conditions established by the president in residence. Remodeled in 1948-1952, its 107 rooms are now air-conditioned, and eleven of these are open to the public, including the famous east room, and red, blue, and green reception rooms.

Visitors enter through the east wing. In the adjoining executive offices, the president transacts his duties, holds cabinet meetings; receives members of congress, government officials, foreign dignitaries and other notables.

The green room is used for informal receptions. The white marble mantel, imported from Italy, when the White House was rebuilt after the War of 1812, was originally in the state dining room. Portraits in the green room include those of Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren and James K. Polk.

The splendor of the city is intensified at night by the illumination of a great number of shrines.

There are legitimate theatrical productions as well as several first-class motion pictures theatres conveniently located in the downtown area close to the hotels.

Mint in Monastery

Coins of an early mint bore a chalice which was surmounted by a cross known as a bannassas gevaudan. It is believed the mint was probably in Saint Canourgus de Bannassas abbey or monastery.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted Hammer

From here and there: Reprinting of outstanding articles that have appeared in The Numismatist will be provided by the American Numismatic Association. The magazine, monthly publication of the ANA, offers articles over a wide field dating back 72 years. A 1943 article on dimes by your correspondent will be included in the first book.

B. M. Deiglas, Washington, D. C. dealer quoted in press service stories about the small date 1960 cents, was buried in an avalanche of mail. He had said in The Washington Sunday Star July 31 that the small date Philadelphia cent of 1960 brought prices ranging up to $3. Somehow, this got on press service wires as $8. Readers got the impression they could sell coins for this amount, not realizing that even if a dealer got $4 per coin, he would pay less than that.

through no fault of ours" to answer all the thousands of letters and to return all the coins sent to us. By the way, not one 'small date' Philadelphia cent was included in the thousands of coins sent us." One dealer says we can have all the small dates we want at $90 a roll.)

Many collectors have criticized the current practice of dealing in rolls. A. Kosoff, Encino, Calif., dealer has come to the defense of roll collectors. He points to charges that roll hoarding "is unscientific, is speculative, creates artificial rarities and attracts irresponsible traders."

Kosoff says that had there not been hoarders in ancient Rome and Greece, specimens available to collectors at 50 cents to $3 or $4 today might cost many times more, due to scarcity. Had there not been hoarders of U. S. commemoratives, many of these coins would not be available today, but would have been melted down, a common practice for disposing of unsold coins.

The hoarding tends to keep prices down. Kosoff urges coexistence for the old time collector and the newcomer who collects rolls of coins.

A record has been set in the sale of 1960 proof coins. The Philadelphia mint began returning orders six months ago. At that time, orders totaled more than 1,700,000. That's six or seven sets for each American collector. And not all numismatists collect proof sets.

Persons sending in orders early this year are just now receiving their coins. The sets, sold at the mint for $2.10 for five coins with face value of 91 cents, are offered by dealers at $5 to $6 a set. Dealers are paying $4.25 a set. Most collectors get two to five sets. Many speculators have bought 100 to 1,000 sets.

Commemorative Coins

Commemorative coins in gold and silver were struck in the United States from 1892 to 1949 to commemorate important historical events.

Kanawha Valley Members Have Show

Coin Dealer John McConihay and his wife discuss buying and selling with other members of the Kanawha Valley Coin Club, sponsors of a coin show at Charleston, West Virginia, recently. McConihay is secretary-treasurer of the club.

Four-State Area Covered

Thousands of visitors attended the Kanawha Valley Coin Club's coin show, held September 24-25 at the Charleston Civic Center, Charleston, West Virginia.

The affair included exhibits, appraisal services, a $250,000 exhibit of gold coins, and auctions.

Formed in 1946 with 12 members, the Kanawha Valley Coin Club has grown to a membership of 125 with W. A. Patrick, St. Albans, as president, and John J. McConihay, South Charleston, secretary-treasurer.

Collectors and dealers from Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee were present for the big Charleston event.

Muscatine Club Grows Rapidly

The Muscatine, Iowa, Coin Club continues to grow with more than 108 members, according to Mrs. K. M. Hathaway, reporter for the organization.

October 1 started a drive for the club; each member who brings in 10 new members is to receive a 1960 proof set. The club also hopes to develop a strong junior coin club.

Reports on the I.N.A. were given by E. Asthalter and W. Allen at a recent meeting.

The Muscatine group meets the fourth Tuesday of each month.

This two dollar bill was issued in 1850 at Winchester, Virginia, and was used recently to publicize the Kanawha Valley Coin Club's show held at Charleston, West Virginia.

This dollar was issued when Charleston, West Virginia, was in Virginia; the bank issuing it preceded the present Kanawha Valley Bank. Charleston was the site of the recent Kanawha Valley Coin Club's show.

Obsolete Bank Notes

There were many notes issued by banks and corporations no longer in existence during the period of the United States history prior to 1861. They are now worthless but historically interesting.

Currency Is Copper

Under Louis XV the copper currency of France for Pondichery was called doudou.

HISTORY—ECONOMICS—numismatics. William, John M.: "The United States Trade Dollar—America's Only Unhonored, Unwanted Coin." A fascinating history of the use of silver coinage in world trade, and why the United States, in the bonanza silver period of the 1870's, minted a special silver dollar actually called the Trade Dollar. Intended for use in the Orient, it was, for a time, legal tender in the United States and a hot political issue until 1887. Fully illustrated, 216 pages, and heavily annotated for historian, economist and numismatist. Limited edition. $10.00 postpaid. Copies numbered and signed by author. John M. America's First Family Of Coin Albums . . .

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8¼" x 6¼", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

Our albums, books and medals are available at your local coin dealer, stamp dealer, book store, hobby shop or at department store counters.

Dealers are invited to send for our Wholesale Price List, using their business stationery and furnishing suitable credit references as to their commercial status.
